Westbrook, Me. - "1 was passing through the Change of Life and had testimonial." - Mrs. LAWRENCE MAR-TIN, 12 King St., Westbrook, Maine. Manston, Wis. - "At the Change of Life I suffered with pains in my back and loins until I could not stand. I also had night-sweats so that the sheets would be wet. I tried other medicine but got no relief. After taking one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began to improve and I continued its use for six months. The pains left me, the night-sweats and hot flashes grew less, and in one year I was a different woman. I know I have to thank you for my continued good health ever since." — Mrs. M. J. BROWNELL, Manston, Wis.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled in such cases.

Engineer Overwhelmed When He Box and Finds Fortune Left by Friend.

A windfall, as welcome as it was unexpected, came to Harvey A. Acker, a locomotive engineer on the Reading railway, living at Allentown, Pa., with the finding of the will of Radley Mohr, retired cigarmaker and widely known sportsman, who died at the age of fifty-

Mohr for years, living very modestly, hoarded with Acker, who was one of his cronies, the pair often going out together for a day with rod or gun. Mr. Mohr for several years, on account of failing health, did nothing but hunt and fish.

It was not known or supposed that he had any fortune. While cleaning up his effects the morning after the funeral Mrs. Acker came across a document which indicated it was Mohr's will. She showed it to Acker, who found he was the sole beneficiary of the estate, and Arthur J. D. Koenig. clerk of the orphans' court of Lehigh county, was named executor.

The will, besides bequeathing to Acker a small property, said he should have the contents of a safe deposit box in one of the banks, and it told him where to find the key and how to open the box. He called on Mr. Koenig and the two did as directed in the will. Their eyes opened in astonishment when they found $14,000 in clean new bills and gold.

Hebron, one of the oldest cities in Palestine, has always been famous for its Oriental water bottles, made of goat skins. Here are to be found large tanneries, where these receptacles are turned out by the thousands. Lying upon the ground in rows may be seen hundreds of goat skins awaiting purchasers. Each skin is inflated, either with water or with air, so that the buyer may know it is perfectly water tight. The majority of the skins used come from Arabia, while a large number are also received from the Lebanons. They are brought to Hebron by the camel caravans and are purchased by the tanneries and turned into bottles. They pass through many processes and a tanner will spend a week upon a single skin before it is rendered water-tight and serviceable. From Hebron these old "bottles" are sent to all parts of the East, thousands going down into Egypt and the Sudan every year. They are also used as rafts. A number of inflated skins are attached to a light wooden frame, which then not only readily floats, but is capable of carrying quite a heavy load. Such rafts are to be seen on the

MAN DOES NOT FORGET

Sneers at Early Poverty Turn Man Into Cynic, Yet He is Making Fortune Drawing Pictures People Laugh Over.

New York,-This is the story of a couple which shall be nameless, because of the prominence the man has attained.

They had been deeply in love when they married. That was ten years ago. Much has happened in ten years, and in their case they had drifted apart. At first there were little scraps, mended by a kiss and a few loving words.

By degrees the rift became larger. She wanted the comfort, if not the luxuries of life, and told him many times of the motor cars and theater boxes she could have if she had married Tom, Dick or Harry instead of him. Once he used to weave stories of a tomorrow, but tomorrow never came. The Separation and Sacrifice.

"You are never satisfied," he said after one of these quarrels. "You have no belief in me. Perhaps I don't amount to much. We don't get on. You remain here and I'll find a place for myself. I'll let you have enough to keep you going-$25 a week." She agreed to this joyfully, and in a few days he removed to a furnished room not many blocks away. Each week she received an envelope with the stipulated amount in it. Otherwise they lived as strangers. The man had only left himself enough out of his salary to keep himself alive. There was no overplus for amusements, and his chief recreation was reading at the public library.

The Pencil of Destiny. One evening, having finished his evening paper, he took up a pencil and began to draw on the edge. He had a sense of humor and was making a comic picture of something he had just read. He was fond of drawing and had given much time to it before his marriage.

Then he took a sheet of paper and drew several comic sketches, and they amused him so much that just for fun he sent one to a comic paper. It was accepted and the editor asked for rivers of Syria and also on the Eumore. He kept on drawing and in three years had attained a reputation under the name of "Scorn."

The Woman's Interest Revives. Meanwhile his wife lived on in the old house, perfectly contented and only slightly curious when her allowance was gradually increased. When one day the envelope contained $50 she decided to go after him. She called at the place where he had been employed when they parted and asked to see him. The clerk grinned.

"He left over a year ago." She rushed to the house where he had roomed. "He left over a year ago," she was informed. Still the $50 arrived regularly.

The Town of Tomorrow.

In California lives a thin man who is something of a cynic. His reputation as a comic artist is established and money comes easily to him. Once a pretty woman asked him why he lived alone.

"I have a wife," he told her. "I left her because she didn't believe in me. I am never going to take her back. It hurts a man to be tied to a bundle of pessimism in petticoats," "And did she love you?" the pretty woman asked.

"I hardly think so." Once his agents wrote him that she wanted to know where he lived. "Tell her," he wrote, "that I am in the Town of Tomorrow."

And she understood.

Untruthful Reports Circulated by Interested Parties.

Defaming a neighbor at the expense of the truth does not help those who are guilty of the practice, and it may be said that those spreading false reports about Canadian lands, in the hope that they may secure customers for their own, will certainly fail of their purpose. False statements so maliciously circulated will sooner or later be disproved. And, as in the case of the lands of Western Canada, the fertility of which is now so well known to people of every state in the United States, the folly of this work shows an exceeding short sightedness on the part of those guilty of the

The present war has given some of these people the opportunity to exercise their art, but in doing it they are only arousing the curiosity of those who read the statements and a trifling investigation will only reveal their untruthfulness. A very foolish statement has recently appeared in a number of papers, reading in part as follows:-"It is believed that as a result of the war tax on land imposed by the Canadian Government a number of former Dakota farmers who went to the British Northwest will be compelled to return to the United States. Information has been received that the tax will amount to about $500 for each farm of 160 acres, which in the case of many of the former residents of the two Dakotas would practically amount to confiscation."

To show that the public has doubted, hundreds of inquiries have been made the Government at Ottawa, Canada, only to bring out the most emphatic denial. A full-fledged lie of this kind has, of course, only a short life, and will tell in the end against those who forge it and spread it, but, as a Winnipeg paper points out, it is most complimentary to the agricultural possibilities of Western Canada to find that rival farming propositions need audacious mendacity of this description to help them.

What is the truth? The Saskatchewan Government has authorized a levy of $10 per quarter section on uncultivated lands owned by non-residents. The Alberta Government has imposed a Provincial tax of 10 mills on the assessed value of all uncultivated lands. There are some special applications of these taxes, but the main provisions are as above. Those vacant lands held by non-residents in Western Canada form a grave problem. They are making for poor communities, poor schools and poor social and economic conditions generally. By having them cultivated the owners as well as the districts in which they are located will benefit alike. It is for this reason that the Government has recently asked the co-operation of the non-residents. The high price of grain for some years to come, and the general splendid character of Western Canada land will make the question well worth consideration.—Advertisement.
